

PRIVACY POLICY

This privacy policy governs your use of the software application Friends List. (“app”) for mobile devices. The software is a small app, to remember names and birthdays of friends. There is no personal information of the user, which is saved.

What information does the app obtain and how is it used?

The inputs of the user are never linked to any personal data, since you cannot create a personal account. The data you enter in the app never leaves your device. This also means we cannot provide any backup of the data to you if you lose the data. The data should be saved in your iCloud Backup if you do not explicitly exclude the app from the backup.

Does the app collect precise real time location information of the device?

This app does not collect precise information about the location of your mobile device.

Is the information obtained by the app shared with any third parties?

The data is not shared with any third parties.
