

PRIVACY POLICY

This privacy policy governs your use of the software application Smart Shopping List (“app”) for mobile devices. The software is a small app, to organize your shopping lists. There are no personal information of the users, which are saved.

What information does the app obtain and how is it used?

The inputs of the user are never linked to any personal data, since you cannot create a personal account. The items on your shopping lists are only saved on our server if you choose to share a shopping list. Then the data is anonymously saved on our server to allow the syncing between multiple devices.

Since we do not collect any personal data, we cannot link this data to you.

Does the app collect precise real time location information of the device?

This app does not collect precise information about the location of your mobile device.

Is the information obtained by the app shared with any third parties?

The data is not shared with any third parties.