

PRIVACY POLICY

This privacy policy governs your use of the software application Fastest Weight Tracker (“app”) for Apple Watch devices that was created by Voglhuber. The software is a small app, which helps you with saving your body weight to Apple Health. There are no personal information of the users, which are saved.

What information does the app obtain and how is it used?

The inputs of the user are saved locally on your device and are synced to Apple Health, if the user explicitly gave the app the permission to save the data to Apple Health.

Does the app collect precise real time location information of the device?

This app does not collect precise information about the location of your device.

Is the information obtained by the app shared with any third parties?

The data is not shared with any third parties, except the sync to Apple Health.
